

In-Service Training Seminar

Hosted by the Rhode Island State Fire Marshals Office

The Rhode Island State Fire Marshals Office cordially invites you to an in-service training relative to how/when to notify the state fire marshals office, fire investigations, bomb investigations, evidence handling, interviewing techniques and statement taking. A representative of the Attorney Generals Office will also speak to investigators on their role in case preparation and presentation in court. Staff from the University of Rhode Island's Crime Lab will also be instructing as it relates to evidence handling/packaging.

This free training seminar is open to all law enforcement and fire personnel that investigate fire scenes. Certificates will be awarded at the completion of the seminar.

The training is on a first come first serve basis and will accommodate the first thirty-five (35) people. Anyone interested in attending should contact the state fire marshals office @ 462-4200 and state your planning on attending this seminar so we can keep a list.
